

Dear Eckhart,

On my journey I find myself reading your book A New Earth. Oh, My, Goodness!

I must share with you some of my thoughts.

1. Lately I have had some deja vu moments ... where I have been in a situation and have had the flash that the event is being repeated. In the Newtonian time-space form - such would be impossible. Neither is it explained by some kind of 'time travel' ... as the event was neither future, nor past, it was simply being 'repeated' in real time. So, I am thinking that our life here has already happened, start to finish, and we are simply 'dropped' into it in our earthly experience. I am a Christian with a strong Bible background ... this perfectly explains both 'predestination' and 'free will' ... (simultaneously).

2. I am a 'Spirit Filled' Christian - in the meaning that I 'speak in tongues' (language(s) that I didn't learn - here on earth). O.M.G. ... could it be that speaking in tongues is simply a release of a language I already know (but ignore in this stupid dream of mine on planet earth)? Could it be that I am blessed with multiple languages, talents, abilities, that I barely, I mean BARELY tap into??? (Yes, Marianne Williamson's quote from A Return To Love would be appropriate here.)

3. The fact that Jesus will give me a new name makes perfect sense. The name I have here was simply given to me by my parents. They didn't know any better; they had to come up with something. And they taught me English, and sent me to grade school, etc., to continue along in this dream - none of which may have been much of a reflection of my true self. But, anyway ...

4. And if this is a dream - I no longer have to be at odds with God about the seeming unfairness of it... how some 'people' never even get through the birth canal before being aborted, of murder, genocide, suffering ... and at the same time ... some being un-understandably wealthy, or healthy, or ... But now it makes sense. What is unfair about a dream - however vivid, good or bad, short or long???

5. And, as I start to tap into this stuff - and I am seemingly a novice at it - I can much more appreciate life, and others ... instead of being such an ass about my lot in life. This SO helps me understand my children. My children are complete beings simply dropped into the dream at different 'times'. I treat them as full, complete, though perhaps clouded by the dream, and especially their youth - clouded-ness in it. But at times they exhibit maturity far greater than my own. And so now it makes sense - at any age I know I was the same me ... and so with them - at any age they are really a full being.

[Deleted]

Sincerely,

Jeff